

Spotlight on our Employees. Carlos Valdivia

Carlos's reputation for being able to fix anything precedes him. Carlos is from Mexico City, one of six brothers. His Mother and Father still live there. Mom comes to the area during the December holidays with her fantastic mole sauce, which brings a smile to Carlos' face. Carlos started working with electronics as a teenager in Mexico, at an electronics company of a family member.

Carlos has been at Canterbury Woods in the Maintenance Department for four years. He likes working with the residents and he likes fixing things. He makes residents' electronics work! He also works on our plumbing. Before coming here he was employed at the Hotel Pacific starting out in the laundry, becoming a bellman, working in room service (which he says was pretty interesting) and then finally maintenance. This was followed by maintenance at the Monterey Plaza Hotel.

Carlos and his wife, Bibiana have been married for twenty-five years. Carlos Valdivia, Jr. just finished at Monterey Peninsula College and is headed for San Jose State University in the fall to study business, much to Carlos' delight.

Carlos has an unusual hobby; he collects die-cast cars and motorcycles. He also likes to watch sports such as soccer and football. He makes a great mole sauce as well!
